George Ade's Big Play.
Every college boy is guilty until he is proven innocent."
That's what George Ade says, and as George Ade is a master of logic as well as epigrams, George Ade ought to know. Aside from being the author of "The Fair Co-Ed," George Ade happens to have been a college man, about—well, it's really nobody's business how many years ago.

he was, a college man. George Ade is, or was, the crinoid of Harvard. The older critics opine that it was the royal blue of Old Nassau which adorned his manly chest. But be that as it may, the fact remains that George Ade is to-day the man to whom the puerile mind of the freshman sophomores and the more sedate and dignified sophomore seniors when the word "ideal" is mentioned, "The Fair Co-Ed" is in Richmond tonight. It is going to stay just this one night. But during the all too brief reign of its career, so far as Richmond is concerned, a collective collection of letters will be on hand to do homage to the greatness of the modern fables in slang and show that they are appreciative of the genius which made possible a George Ade and a "Fair Coed," despite the harrowing confines, and, at times, dwarfing in influence, of a dormitory.

The music for the "Fair Co-Ed" was written by the man who made "The Prince of Platoon" famous—Gus Luders. The book is by that same irrepressible fellow, George Ade. Altogether, a concoction which not alone pleases, but satisfies. The local college contingent will be out in force, and, if a few yells should intersperse the action, the play will not at all surprise, for, remember that Great Ade was bred in the environs of a real, live college.

and Saturday matinee, in the biggest thing that he has ever had. It is entitled "The Ladies' Lion" and is described as a musical "brilliant" in two parts, with eighteen musical numbers and "garaged" under the pure fun and laugh act. The imitabile comedian has placed himself under the management of the "Ladies' Lion" and the producers of "Madame Sherry" who have surrounded their new star with a cast which makes "The Ladies' Lion" one of the best musical organizations now traveling.

never an inward influence, and therefore the only possible way to get rid of these places is to take internal treatment. Pure blood is the one infallible cure for chronic ulcers; just as long as the circulation is allowed to remain in an impure condition the place will be kept open from the constant discharge of impurities into it from the blood. But pure blood will change this condition and the flesh tissues will be nourished and made healthy, and then nature will promptly and permanently heal the ulcer. S. S. S. is recognized as the greatest of all blood purifiers and therein lies its power to cure old ulcers and sores. It goes into the circulation, and removes every trace of impurity or infectious matter, and so enriches this vital fluid that it nourishes all flesh tissues instead of irritating them with impurities. When S. S. S. has cleansed the blood and the place has healed over it is not a surface cure, but the ulcer is filled in with healthy flesh from the bottom. Free book and any medical advice will be sent to all sufferers who will write us. S. S. S. is for sale at drug stores.
